About the Program: Many states have legalized cannabis (marijuana) for medical use and for recreational purposes. THC remains a Schedule I substance, and, thus, there has been relatively little research regarding its medicinal uses, especially in dentistry. However, with the signing of the "2018 Farm Bill", CBD derived from hemp now enjoys de-scheduled status and there is increasing interest in its potential use as a treatment for a variety of conditions, as well as several proposed uses in dentistry. This program will introduce dental professionals to the pharmacology of cannabis, THC, CBD and other cannabinoids, including routes of administration and adverse effects. Special emphasis will be placed on the proposed uses of cannabis and cannabinoids in dentistry for the management of patient anxiety and odontogenic pain.

Learning Objectives: Upon successful completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Discuss the history and various types of cannabis and cannabinoids, as well as their current legal status.
- Describe the pharmacology of cannabis, and cannabinoids, including mechanism of action, and routes of administration.
- Identify the effects of cannabis and cannabinoids on major organ systems.
- Explore the proposed uses of cannabis and cannabinoids in dentistry for the management of patient anxiety and odontogenic pain.
- Explain the clinical considerations of cannabis use, potential treatment modifications, and strategies for patient care planning.

Continuing Education: Two hours of credit will be issued.

To Register: Online registration is available on the WCDS Website and on the FRVDS Website. There's an old joke that goes like this: "I usually golf in the mid 70s... Any colder and I just stay home."

Fortunately, this chilly and blustery day didn't stop our fearless participants from having a fabulous time on the golf course!

Couples that golf together! Left to right: Priyal Mongrola, Parth Mongrola, Rajeev Patel, and outing chairman, Sonia Belai.

Kent Baker of Patterson grips it and rips it. Thanks for the goodie bag items, Kent!

A few of Aurora's finest -- no ifs, ands, or putts: Jay Gupana, Sal Cardenas, and Brian Tonner, joined by Tad Friess of Rockert Dental.

Shaun Varghese, William Perkinson, Gary Ahasic, and Jim Soderstrom enjoying a tee-riffic day together.

Felicia Chu, Allison Wolski, and Ramona Bosma played as a threesome.

Based on the fun they seemed to be having, it may be true that "Irons are a girl's best friend."

Golf Sponsors Add to the Fun!

The winning team came from Midwest Bank. Mark Oganovich, Dave Mulhausen, and Doug Pauly showed their support and their golf skills.
