FRVDS Dentists Prepare for Dentist with a Heart Event 2019

visit www.aurorachildrendentalservice.org

During February 2019, many Fox River Valley Dental Society Members will be opening their offices for one day of free dental care to those in need. This annual program is called Dentist With a Heart (DWAH), and it has become a very successful Society event that promotes access to care in our communities.

Some dental specialists will help out at local offices or accept referrals by appointment. And, some FRVDS members who cannot participate, provide assistance by donating money to offset advertising costs

If you have not yet signed up, you can still participate. To be listed on printed materials, respond by December 20. If you miss that deadline, you may notify your local chairman and spread the word through your own office. It's very rewarding to be a part of Dentist With a Heart!

Easy as 1-2-3

1. Choose your date
2. Contact your closest local DWAH leader to indicate your participation
3. Schedule the necessary staff to assist you

About the Presentation: Dentists are not just involved in the improvement of patients' mouths but in their overall health. This discussion will highlight the typical anatomic features of patients with sleep disordered breathing, as well as, discuss the physiology of sleep and common ways that we can evaluate sleep every day in practice. The lecture is intended to give real patient examples and everyday solutions to a very complicated problem.

Course Objective: Attendees will gain a better understanding of anatomy and physiology of obstructive sleep apnea and will be able to utilize information to recognize patients with sleep disordered breathing and improve therapy.

Continuing Education: Two hours of credit will be issued.

How in the World Does Endo Even Work? with William Nudera, DDS

Date: Tuesday, March 19, 2019
Time: 6:00 pm social hour / 7:00 pm dinner
Location: Aurora Country Club
1548 W. Prairie Rd., Aurora
Registration: $65 / Attendee.
Free with Season Ticket
Free to Aurora Dental Society Members
Deadline: Monday, March 11, 2019

About the Presentation: With an estimated 15 million root canals performed annually, it is no surprise that the practice of endodontics consistently ranks within the top 5 most commonly performed dental procedures in the United States. Clinicians performing endodontic treatment boast high success rates coupled with efficient, streamlined treatment protocols. But have you ever stopped to think about how this procedure even works; why we do what we do? Despite significant technological advances, the biologic variables and challenges remain unchanged. This presentation examines how the philosophy of endodontics intertwines with established scientific fact, giving rise to our current treatment recommendations and protocols.

Course Objective: By the completion of this presentation, the clinician should have a better understanding of the established scientific evidence which drives endodontic treatment recommendations and how to develop a treatment model that reflects individual philosophy, while satisfying current biologic requirements for optimal results.

Continuing Education: Two hours of credit will be issued.

Registration: Forms are also available at www.frvds.org. Please send registration form and payment to Fox River Valley Dental Society, 2258 Newport Lane, Geneva, IL 60134; fax: 630-232-4240; phone: 630-232-4229; e-mail: info@frvds.org.
